

ENROLL IN A RESEARCH PRACTICUM WITH THE PIANO PEDAGOGY RESEARCH LABORATORY

Fall 2019 – Winter 2020
MUS4910 (3 credits)

Open to graduate and undergraduate students

This research practicum provides students with an opportunity to assist with cutting-edge research in music pedagogy. Students in the practicum will be involved in:

- developing research session protocols
- recruiting and scheduling research participants
- assisting with data collection and acting as research assistants during research sessions
- assisting with data management
- performing data analysis and reporting results

For more information or to obtain a registration form, come to the Piano Pedagogy Research Lab (Perez, Room 204), or contact Mikael Swirp, research coordinator: mswirp@uottawa.ca