

Biennial Conference of the International Consortium for Educational Development (ICED 2004), University of Ottawa

Video and Broadband Video Conference in Professional Development

The presenters will demonstrate use of video and broadband video conference in professional development. Using case studies and video collected from recent projects, the presenters will highlight practical approaches to professional development via video-enabled reflection, telementoring and demonstration. Theory will be related to practice, and participants will have the opportunity to discuss application to their needs. The experience related by the presenters includes: four years of broadband- and video-enabled teacher professional development in recent research at University of Ottawa into use of video in piano teaching, and the LearnCanada (www.LearnCanada.ca) and MusicGrid (www.MusicGrid.ca) projects.